60th Oilbarrel Conference
Thursday 13th June 2013

Proudly Sponsored by

09.45 - 10.10

MEC Resources (ASX - MMR)

David Breeze, Managing Director

Perth-based investment company MEC Resources has an interest in Advent Energy, which holds the potential multi-TCF PEP 11 project offshore New South Wales. Advent also has acreage in the onshore Bonaparte Basin and the shallow water Carnarvon Basin.

10.10 - 10.35

Oxford Catalysts Group (AIM - OCG)

Roy Lipski, Chief Executive Officer

AIM-quoted Oxford Catalysts has developed a proprietary modular gas-to-liquids solution that promises to monetise previously stranded or uneconomic gas fields. In April it won an US$8 million order to supply FT reactors to a Texas company that is backing GTL plants in North America.

10.35 - 11.30 - Coffee Break

11.30 - 11.55

Guest Speaker - Carlos E. Alfaro

Chairman of the Argentine American Chamber of Commerce and Partner, Alfaro-Abogados

Shale Oil and Gas Development in Argentina could become one of the best investment opportunities of this decade. An economic and legal risk analysis.

11.55 - 12.20

Alumni Oil

Stephen Larkin, CEO of Alumni Oil and Africa New Energies

Alumni Oil is a technology-driven exploration company focused on southern Africa, where it has exploration acreage in South Africa and Namibia. It holds the Namibian acreage through Africa New Energies, which in February became the first international exploration company to receive advanced assurance under HMRC's EIS scheme.

Our next Conference will take place on Tuesday 3rd September
The Brewery, 52 Chiswell Street, City of London, EC1Y 4SD
